

SHAW BUSINESS SOLUTIONS

With a high-performance network able to handle over 10 million calls and 271 million emails every day, we provide Internet, voice and data networking services that your business can depend on with confidence.

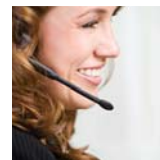

We own, operate and invest in our own North American fiber-optic network, and in our global carrier partnership, so you can be assured that our services will reach you, wherever you are. Whether it's time to upgrade from your current DSL Internet service or connect your branches nationally on a Wide Area Network, we have the superior service you need.

Our focus is customer experience. So, to ensure your business network runs smoothly, our technical support and service team is available 24/7/365. Our services are designed to deliver quality performance with predictable costs. We provide you with a single point of contact throughout service installation and pride ourselves on accurate, on-time billing.

Shaw Business Solutions is a division of Shaw Communications; a company that serves over 3.4 million customers across broadband cable television, high-speed Internet, direct-to-home satellite and digital phone services. Shaw Communications is also traded on the Toronto and New York stock exchanges.
